

My inner-city school has had no music program for several years now and if it weren't for the JPEC outreach program, many of the students would not have any opportunities to make music throughout the year.

Our students have been fortunate to have worked with Joaquin Nunez Hidalgo and Chris O'Neil and at each visit they have brought their passion and enthusiasm to the school, leaving our students excited and eager to learn more about making music.

We want to thank Sandy and JPEC for organizing this amazing program that truly makes a difference in the lives of our diverse student community.

With gratitude,

Michael

Michael Demeter, OCT

Teacher - Enseignant

General Crerar PS

“Education is the most powerful weapon for changing the world.”

- Nelson Mandela